What is the difference between a school and an academy?

One key priority of Preserving the Vision, the strategic planning process for Catholic education in the Diocese of Brooklyn, is to transition all Catholic elementary schools to academies by 2017. The main difference between a school and an academy is in the governance model. A Catholic school is governed by the parish, so the pastor is directly in charge. An academy is governed by a two-tiered board that is comprised of a Board of Directors and a Board of Members. This image depicts the transition.

Academy Roles

The Board of Members is comprised of pastors aligned to the academy, the bishop, and the superintendent. Together, they function as prime sponsors of the academy. They appoint the Directors and ensure the overall Catholic identity of the academy and its programs. In some cases, the “Board of Members” oversees multiple academies.

The Board of Directors is composed of lay people who function as the governing body of the academy. They select the principal and serve as the immediate supervising body. They are passionate about Catholic education and share their expertise in the areas of: finance, facilities management, institutional advancement, marketing, and public relations.

The principal is the instructional, educational, and spiritual leader of the academy, as well as its chief educational operating officer. He or she also communicates directly with the Home/Academy Association.

The Home/Academy Association is comprised of parents who have children in the school. It serves to support and enrich the educational and formational endeavors of the academy, and works to promote a connection from home to academy.

The teachers and the staff members fulfill the mission of the academy. The teachers plan, guide, and evaluate the learning process of the students for whom the teachers are responsible within the framework of the academy’s philosophy, organization, and curriculum. The staff implements the mission through their assigned responsibilities.
Navigating the Guide

This guide is divided into two sections—Brooklyn and Queens—and is alphabetical by each.

The following subjects are a part of the curriculum in every academy and school:

1) English Language Arts
2) Social Studies
3) Math
4) Science
5) Religion
6) Art
7) Music
8) Technology
9) Physical Education

Additionally, almost all schools offer instruction in at least one language other than English.

Special subjects simply refer to subjects that do not meet on a daily basis.

Please note that as comprehensive as this guide is, it is only a guide. Its purpose is to form a baseline in your search and it cannot provide all the information for every academy and school. Some changes may occur. For instance, some academies within this guide may have a new board chairperson next year, or if there is a high demand, some schools may open an extra Pre-K class. To be sure that you have the latest information, or to make any inquiries, be sure to call the academy or school in question.
Navigating the Guide

The teacher to student ratio within the guide is an average ratio for grades K-8 within that school. The actual ratio differs depending upon the grade level.

For early childhood grades, the average teacher to student ratio is at least 1 to 10.

The early childhood section of this guide lists only whether or not the academy or school has the following:
- Toddler program (ages depend on the school)
- Pre-K 3 program (for 3 year olds)
- Pre-K 4 program (for 4 year olds)
- Universal Pre-K (for 4 year olds)

Universal Pre-K (UPK) is a tuition-free program while other Pre-K programs require some tuition. This is because UPK receives government funding. For general information about schools with UPK, please see page 8.

Dashes in the early childhood tuition chart indicate that the program is not available. For instance, if you see tuition for full-day Pre-K 3, but no tuition is listed for half-day Pre-K 3, it means that the academy or school only has full-day Pre-K 3.

SMART Board technology is available in every school and academy. You will notice that some locations have them equipped in every classroom.
Navigating the Guide

Each school page lists “Services and Resources.” This is not an exhaustive list of the services and resources in that academy or school. Rather, the list will inform you whether or not the academy or school provides the following:

1. Early Drop-Off
2. After-school
3. Title I Services (These may consist of Reading, Math, ESL, and Guidance services.)
4. SETSS (Special Education Teacher Support Services)
5. Yellow Bus Service
6. Lunch Program (This refers to a lunch program run by the school or an outside vendor.)
7. School Food (Official lunch program of the NYC Department of Education)
8. ESL Teacher (English as a Second Language Teacher)
9. Crossing Guard
10. Guidance Counselor
11. Nurse
Universal Pre-Kindergarten

Some schools offer free Universal Pre-K (UPK) programs.

Universal Pre-Kindergarten is a New York State early childhood initiative, administered in New York City by the New York City Department of Education. UPK provides four-year-old children access to comprehensive early childhood education experiences that promote their social-emotional, creative expressive/aesthetic, physical, cognitive, linguistic, and cultural development.

In New York City, children are eligible if they are or become 4 years old by December 31 of the school year in which they are enrolled in the program.

Below is a list of schools/academies that currently have UPK on site. For more information about UPK in your area, please call the closest academy or school listed below. You may also view a map on our website: www.mybqcatholicschool.com.

Good Shepherd School

Mission:
The Good Shepherd School Philosophy is rooted in the belief that each child is made in the image and likeness of God, uniquely called to love, learn and share life to the fullest. As a Catholic School, our teachings are based on the Gospel message of Jesus Christ so that our students will be able to live in a society as responsible Christians, aware of their obligations to God, neighbor and self. Every student is encouraged to develop as a total person intellectually, emotionally and spiritually. Our school community seeks to provide an atmosphere where all are enabled to experience positive interactions with others. This leads to an increase in self-worth and self-respect and growth to the fullest potential. School activities provide a variety of experiences upon which sound judgments can be made and mutual respect developed. It is in this atmosphere that Christian values will become, for all, a reality and a life.

Queen of All Saints School

Mission:
We believe that education includes the spiritual, intellectual, moral, personal and physical development of the individual. Our vision is based on the notion that “Christ is the reason for this school, the unseen but ever present teacher in its classrooms, the model of its faculty and the inspiration of its students.” We are inspired by the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. This inspiration permeates all we do to develop the Christian atmosphere present in our school. We treat each other as well as our students with respect and expect the students to do the same. We realize the strong foundation we provide is essential for a successful life. Therefore, we foster an atmosphere where learning can take place. We foster academic excellence for all of our students. We are cognizant of the fact that each of our students is an individual. Therefore, each student must be treated in a way that enhances his or her personal development.

We recognize and celebrate the diverse ethnic backgrounds and heritages of our young men and women, representing more than 26 parishes in the Diocese of Brooklyn, a microcosm of the cosmopolitan nature of New York City. We believe in providing children with both religious and academic awareness that will enable them to develop a good Christian foundation with the knowledge to help them meet the new and ever-changing world that lies ahead. We further believe that it is our ministry to instill critical thinking skills with a strong moral compass by providing well-rounded academic courses in a stimulating and nurturing environment. Towards that end, we believe in developing and maintaining scholastically challenging programs.

Catherine Laboure Program (Special Education)

Mission:
The Catherine Laboure Program was designed to provide exceptional service to Learning Disabled, Speech Impaired or Intellectually Disabled students. Founded in 1965, the program offered a long-term commitment to and with firm conviction, that children with special needs of all ages, religions, and socio-economic backgrounds would be trained academically, socially and vocationally to become independent, to be contributive, and to be able to take their place in society with dignity. We aspire to give each child a sense of self-worth and dignity; to increase their awareness and understanding; to stimulate moral and intellectual growth and the development of social awareness; to educate each child to the level of his or her potential; to enhance the quality of the lives of our children by helping to equip them with the survival skills so that they may one day live on their own and become self sustaining; to promote and encourage self-help and equality of opportunity in the work force and to train students who are Intellectually disabled to handle the school to work transition by developing strong sequential work/education experiences for each student.

Ave Maria Catholic Academy

Mission:
Ave Maria Catholic Academy is dedicated to building an atmosphere of love, trust, and care among students, parents, and staff. We share with the family the threefold mission of the Catholic Church: to teach the Gospel message, to build community in the life of the Church, and to provide service to the Church and world community. At AMCA, we are actively involved in forming the whole person spiritually, mentally, and physically. Students develop a positive life outlook and self-image through the teaching that all people are worthy of respect, have a right to their dignity, and are special in the eyes of God. Through the integration of Catholic religious truths and values within the curriculum, students develop insights into the problems that face individuals and society today. Students also acquire skills to address these issues effectively. Through prayer and in conjunction with parents, priests and community, our mission is to instill a love of life, respect for others, an eagerness to learn and a willingness to grow and follow the Gospel of Jesus Christ in word and action.

Saint Kevin Catholic Academy

Mission:
St. Kevin Catholic Academy is committed to the belief that the ultimate goal of education is to develop the whole person. We aspire to teach as Jesus did, focusing attention on HIS message through daily living, by being "truly kind and gentle to each and every one". We follow this example set by Catherine McAuley, foundress of the Sisters of Mercy, and first educators at St. Kevin School. We are convinced that the academic, social, physical, technological and cultural objectives we hope to achieve in the educative process flow from this belief. Our paramount concern is to prepare the children for their role in the global community. We are a family rooted in the Gospel values with a sustained emphasis on living with Christ as our model.

We believe in a strong relationship between home and school, which helps foster our Catholic spirit. Our students are also aware of their role in the world and are cognizant of the needs of the community and the world around us. The Board of Pastors of Saint Stanislaus Kostka, Holy Cross, and Transfiguration Parishes believe that Saint Stanislaus Kostka School is an integral part of the evangelization of the Maspeth community. This belief is rooted in the fact that Saint Stanislaus Kostka School, in conjunction with the three parishes, provides for the education of the children in an atmosphere of academic excellence while handing on our Catholic faith and practice as well. Knowledge and its application to everyday life are the attributes in both the human and the Christian wisdom that we seek to impart to the students. Teaching as Jesus did, with respect, sensitivity, compassion and concern, guides the Board of Pastors, the Principal, and the Faculty of Saint Stanislaus Kostka School. Parents are recognized as the primary educators of their children, and Saint Stanislaus Kostka School assists them in fulfilling this responsibility by maintaining ongoing and open communication with the parishes and the school.
